

1973 EAGLE

We have come a long way
to the place we stand now.
We have walked the long roads
together.
And finally we have crossed
the last narrow bridge.
We are finding where we are . . .

BEHIND THE SCENES . . .

The Seniors of 1973 wish to extend a sincere "Thank You" to Superintendent Gail Miller for the improvements he has made in our school during the two years he has been here. He has added to our curriculum such classes as Work Study and Career Education, and has, also, expanded our study and classroom space by adding a new library and a new building which houses our shop equipment and classrooms, and our instrumental and vocal music rooms.

SUPERINTENDENT
GAIL MILLER

JUNIOR CLASS PLAY

"RUBBERNECK" was . . .

. . . disciplining.

. . . romantic.

. . . sharing.

. . . political.

The biggest role in the class play wasn't filled by a student but a dummy called Rubberneck. Rubberneck is the Wilkens' answer to stopping their nearsighted uncle from running and losing again for mayor of his community. Before long the whole family becomes united behind the "Rubberneck for Mayor" campaign, which eventually gets national attention for the town.

. . . a calamity.

. . . moving.

. . . sympathetic.

. . . daring.

. . . a RELIEF!

Males learned to be bachelors.

Allen High expanded its curriculum to meet the needs of its students. The shop was expanded, including a course for girls. Home Ec. opened up to males, besides introducing independent studies in clothing and interior design. Allen got a nurse to instruct health occupation. Weight lifting, drafting and speech/drama were added. German was, also, returned to the schedule.

A dream boat can now become reality.

Students became healers of all wounds.

The new library was completed by midyear.
